Hi Angela,

Thank you! I have just scheduled a meeting for Thursday at 5 pm.

If it's helpful ahead of the meeting, our nonprofit's main activity is operating our educational chat app SwayBeta, which you can learn more about at swaybeta.ai.

Looking forward to it,

Dear Angie (cc'ing Simon Cullen, the President of Disagree Wisely),

It was great to meet you today!

I had another question about professional liability insurance. Our app is actually free and explicitly comes with no guarantees about its performance or availability (though we do provide data on our website showcasing its performance with past students). Does this fact affect how important it is for us to get professional liability?

Thanks,
Nick

Great to meet you today and I look forward to assisting!

While having disclaimers in place can certainly help mitigate risks, it is important to note that disclaimers alone cannot prevent someone from filing a lawsuit. Even when negligence or fault is not established, liability policies can provide significant value by covering legal and defense costs.

These costs often add up quickly and can become quite substantial. For this reason, I highly recommend considering liability coverage, even though, as we discussed, it remains an optional choice.

Thanks, Angie.

My apologies about the late reply -- things have been quite busy for us.

A couple of notes. First, I've filled out and attached the first form. I didn't fill in the questions for fiduciary liability exposure since we have no ERISA plans. Is that fine?

Second, I'm working on the Technology Professional Liability application but am encountering several fundamental mismatches between the form's assumptions and our nonprofit business model. Could we schedule a brief meeting to go over the form (as well as the question of whether this is the right kind of form for us)?

I'm available between 2 and 4:30 PM Eastern tomorrow (Friday, Sep 26). Would that work for you? If not, any time after 3:30 PM on Monday would work for me.

Thanks,
Nicholas

Hi Angie,

I'm the president of Disagree Wisely. Nick forwarded the D&O quote and I wanted to ask you about it because it is much higher than anticipated. I spoke with the CEO of a similar nonprofit, who indicated that their D&O was around $1,000/month. And after your meeting with Nick, I recall him telling me that you expected something similar to that figure. Could I trouble you to let me know why this quote is coming in so much higher?

Thanks for your help!

As long as it will be filed, we can proceed with quoting as tax exempt. This does open up more carriers with better pricing.

Attached is a quote form carrier that can offer terms as long the organizing does received a tax exemption. Pricing is much better! D&O just $798.93 annually.

EPLI (Employment Practices Liability) can be added for a total D&O and EPLI premium of $942 + Tax/Fee.

Thanks, Angie.

My apologies about the late reply -- things have been quite busy for us.

A couple of notes. First, I've filled out and attached the first form. I didn't fill in the questions for fiduciary liability exposure since we have no ERISA plans. Is that fine?

Second, I'm working on the Technology Professional Liability application but am encountering several fundamental mismatches between the form's assumptions and our nonprofit business model. Could we schedule a brief meeting to go over the form (as well as the question of whether this is the right kind of form for us)?

I'm available between 2 and 4:30 PM Eastern tomorrow (Friday, Sep 26). Would that work for you? If not, any time after 3:30 PM on Monday would work for me.

Thanks,

Nicholas

Dear Angie (cc'ing Simon Cullen, the President of Disagree Wisely),

It was great to meet you today!

I had another question about professional liability insurance. Our app is actually free and explicitly comes with no guarantees about its performance or availability (though we do provide data on our website showcasing its performance with past students). Does this fact affect how important it is for us to get professional liability?

Thanks,

Hi Angie,

Thanks so much for this, and apologies for the delay!

We've reviewed everything and want to move forward with both policies. However, before doing so, we'd like to address a few critical coverage items:

1. Prior Acts Date - Both Policies
   - We've actually been operating since June 1, 2024 (first pilot of our app, though Disagree Wisely wasn't incorporated until April 2025)
   - Please quote both policies with retroactive date = June 1, 2024
   - Let us know premium impact
   - We can complete the CFC No Claims Declaration quickly
2. CFC E&O - Contractors Covered
   - We have several independent contractors performing technology services (software engineering)
   - Please confirm that independent contractors are covered as "employees" under Definition 19 for purposes of the E&O coverage (Insuring Clause 1)
3. Carolina D&O - Defense Costs in Addition to Limit
   - The quote note says "unlimited defense costs outside the limit of liability"
   - Please confirm this means "Costs of Defense in Addition to the Limit of Liability" (per Section V.A.2 of the policy form) will be selected on Item 4.B. of the Declarations page when you bind the policy"
4. Address Correction - Both Policies
   - Please update everywhere to: DISAGREE WISELY, INC., 7901 4TH ST N, STE 300, ST PETERSBURG, FL 33702

We'd also like to confirm:

5. CFC aggregate deductible is $2,500 total (not per-claim) across Insuring Clauses 1/2/3/4/5/6/9
6. Carolina D&O is admitted in Florida (not surplus lines) and should include Florida (not Arizona) amendatory endorsement

Can you send updated quotes reflecting the June 1, 2024 retroactive dates with premium impact? Once we review those, we'll complete the No Claims Declaration.

Also - do these quotes have expiration dates we should be aware of?

Thanks for your help!

Best,

Nick (& Simon)

Hi Angie,

Thanks so much for this, and apologies for the delay!

We've reviewed everything and want to move forward with both policies. However, before doing so, we'd like to address a few critical coverage items:

1. Prior Acts Date - Both Policies –
   since there was no prior coverage we cannot backdate this coverage. The carrier can only backdate if you have proof of prior retroactive date.
   - We've actually been operating since June 1, 2024 (first pilot of our app, though Disagree Wisely wasn't incorporated until April 2025)
   - Please quote both policies with retroactive date = June 1, 2024
   - Let us know premium impact
   - We can complete the CFC No Claims Declaration quickly
2. CFC E&O - Contractors Covered
   Yes, independent contractors are considered employees per CFC form.
   - We have several independent contractors performing technology services (software engineering)
   - Please confirm that independent contractors are covered as "employees" under Definition 19 for purposes of the E&O coverage (Insuring Clause 1)
3. Carolina D&O - Defense Costs in Addition to Limit
   This is correct. Defense cost are unlimited.
   - The quote note says "unlimited defense costs outside the limit of liability"
   - Please confirm this means "Costs of Defense in Addition to the Limit of Liability" (per Section V.A.2 of the policy form) will be selected on Item 4.B. of the Declarations page when you bind the policy"
4. Address Correction - Both Policies
   I will have this revised.
   - Please update everywhere to: DISAGREE WISELY, INC., 7901 4TH ST N, STE 300, ST PETERSBURG, FL 33702

We'd also like to confirm:

5. CFC aggregate deductible is $2,500 total (not per-claim) across Insuring Clauses 1/2/3/4/5/6/9
   The $2500 is for each and every claim.

Deductible:	USD2,500	each and every claim, including costs and expenses

6. Carolina D&O is admitted in Florida (not surplus lines) and should include Florida (not Arizona) amendatory endorsement – AZ amendatory endorsement is included as the coverage territory includes this states and due to this is a requirement.

Can you send updated quotes reflecting the June 1, 2024 retroactive dates with premium impact? Once we review those, we'll complete the No Claims Declaration. I don't believe you have had prior coverage, but if you have with proof of this prior retroactive date, please provide and I can have revised.

Also - do these quotes have expiration dates we should be aware of? Quotes are valid for 30 days. If we get past this, usually easy enough to refresh terms. While not a guarantee, but unlikely to see much change in pricing, if any at all.

Thanks for your help!

Best,

Nick (& Simon)

Hi Angie,

I'm the president of Disagree Wisely. Nick forwarded the D&O quote and I wanted to ask you about it because it is much higher than anticipated. I spoke with the CEO of a similar nonprofit, who indicated that their D&O was around $1,000/month. And after your meeting with Nick, I recall him telling me that you expected something similar to that figure. Could I trouble you to let me know why this quote is coming in so much higher?

Thanks for your help!

Sincerely,

Simon

Subject: RE: Disagree Wisely, Inc.

Hello Nicholas,

I am still pending an option for the D&O, but I have received a quote for your Tech E&O/Cyber coverage..

Once we have the other quote in and you've had a chance to review all we can schedule a time to discuss further.

Thanks!

Thanks, Angie.

My apologies about the late reply -- things have been quite busy for us.

A couple of notes. First, I've filled out and attached the first form. I didn't fill in the questions for fiduciary liability exposure since we have no ERISA plans. Is that fine?

Second, I'm working on the Technology Professional Liability application but am encountering several fundamental mismatches between the form's assumptions and our nonprofit business model. Could we schedule a brief meeting to go over the form (as well as the question of whether this is the right kind of form for us)?

I'm available between 2 and 4:30 PM Eastern tomorrow (Friday, Sep 26). Would that work for you? If not, any time after 3:30 PM on Monday would work for me.

Thanks,

Nicholas

I'm not sure if you missed it, but I just sent you another email before you sent yours...

Dear Angie (cc'ing Simon Cullen, the President of Disagree Wisely),

It was great to meet you today!

I had another question about professional liability insurance. Our app is actually free and explicitly comes with no guarantees about its performance or availability (though we do provide data on our website showcasing its performance with past students). Does this fact affect how important it is for us to get professional liability?

Thanks,

Nick

Hi Angie,

Thanks for these responses!

Understood on the aggregate deductible ($2,500 per claim) and the Arizona endorsement. No issues there.

Thanks for clarifying about the prior acts. I understand we didn't have prior coverage, but I want to make sure we're exploring all options since this is a significant coverage gap for us. We operated as an academic pilot project from June 2024 - April 2025 before formally incorporating Disagree Wisely, Inc. in April 2025. We didn't realize we needed insurance during the pilot phase.

A few questions:

1. Is there any way to get "full prior acts" coverage with a June 1, 2024 retroactive date, even without prior insurance? We're willing to:
    - Pay additional premium
    - Accept a higher deductible for pre-inception claims
    - Sign an enhanced no-claims declaration
    - Provide detailed documentation of our operations/activities since June 2024
2. If CFC/Carolina absolutely won't backdate without prior coverage, are there any other carriers who might offer prior acts coverage for this uninsured period? Even if it's expensive or has limitations?
3. Since Disagree Wisely, Inc. didn't exist as a legal entity until April 2025, does that affect how the coverage gap works? Would pre-incorporation activities even attach to the corporate policy?

We understand if the answer is "no prior acts possible without prior coverage." If so, we're ready to move forward with both policies as quoted (with the corrected St. Petersburg address in FL). But we wanted to be absolutely sure about our options first!

Thanks,

Nick

I have reached out to my underwriter to see if they have any options for full prior acts on either cover. Sometimes we can find this for Cyber, not less confident we'll be able to find for the D&O. I will advise as soon as I hear back.

As for business operations before the existence of the legal entity. The policies will written to the entity as the named insured. So even if we find coverage for prior acts, it will only date back the legal existence of the entity.

Great news. We can get coverage for full prior acts on both policies. No changes to any other terms or premium. This will be updated at time of binding.

Please let me know if you have any other questions, otherwise I will get started on next steps.

I'll request and send you our Gallagher Proposal Letter for signature to authorize coverage. I will have this to you today.

I will send the document to you via a regular email for your records and then a version via Adobe Sign for electronic signature.

Once signed I will send you a link for payment from First Insurance Funding. Here you will be able to pay in full or finance installments. After payment has been received I will secure coverage with the carrier.

*Note, binding of coverage is contingent on payment.
